1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1,2,3,4,25,26,27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe 4,434,359. Watanabe discloses an ATM in a housing 1 with a cash dispenser 10 (col 2 line 65, figs 6&7 for example) that extends into the housing. There is disclosed a user interface with at least one input device, e.g. keyboard 3, card insertion port 6, an output device, e.g. CRT 4 and receipt means 7. There is disclosed a fascia portion surrounding the user interface portion. As seen in figure 1 there is a projection out from fascia in the vicinity of the card reader, the projection includes at least two vertical sides and the projection at least partially covers the insertion port for the card reader. The card itself is inserted into a "pocket" which is recessed in the vertical sides of the projection are flush with the edges of an inserted card. Watanabe does not specifically disclose that the card reader is capable of reading magnetic stripe cards. However, Official Notice is taken that magnetic stripe ATM cards are old and well known. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to make the card reader of Watanabe a magnetic stripe card reader. The magnetic stripe ATM card is widely used. One would therefore be motivated to use a magnetic stripe card in order to allow the machine of Watanabe to be used by the many banking systems that already use magnetic stripe cards.

4. Claims 5-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the vertically extending projection extends vertically from the first wall of the pocket as claimed specifically in claim 5.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. May 6,357,657 and Hirose et al 4,602,332 both disclose input and output devices surrounded by a fascia on ATM machines.
